COURSE DESCRIPTION

---

The USC Diabetes Symposium returns for its 5th year, continuing to provide exciting updates in the care of people with diabetes, as well as accompanying complications and comorbidities.

This hybrid program, offered in person and over virtual platform, presents updates in the field of diabetes and obesity management from experts in a variety of fields.

Highlighted are areas of advancement including updates to guideline-based medical therapy, incorporation of diabetes technology into care, care for individuals with end-stage kidney disease, treatment of obesity and metabolic liver disease with novel agents, addressing diabetes distress, and discussion of potential ocular complications of incretin therapy.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

---

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Identify patients who are candidates for cardio- and renal protective medications.
- Know the benefits of diabetes technology.
- Treat obesity in the context of diabetes.
- Integrate strategies for reduction of diabetes distress.

TARGET AUDIENCE

---

This course is intended for endocrinologists, primary care providers, nurses, trainees and other health professionals that care for those with diabetes and obesity to enhance their knowledge of up to date treatment strategies.

---

ACCREDITATION STATEMENT

---

The Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

---

CREDIT DESIGNATION

---

The Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California designates this live activity for a maximum of 5.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The following may apply AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™ for license renewal: Registered Nurses may report up to 5.75 credit hour(s) toward the CME requirements for license renewal by their state Board of Registered Nurses (BRN). CME may be noted on the license renewal application in lieu of a BRN provider number.

Physician Assistants: The National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants states that AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ accredited courses are acceptable CME requirements for recertification.
