

Angela N. Buffenn, MD, MPH earned both her MD and Master of Public Health Degree from the University of Michigan. She completed her ophthalmology residency at the University of Maryland and her fellowship in pediatric ophthalmology and adult strabismus at the Wilmer Eye Institute, Johns Hopkins Hospital.

She is the director of the Pediatric Ophthalmology and Strabismus, Adult Strabismus Fellowship Program at The Vision Center, Children's Hospital Los Angeles, USC, Keck School of Medicine. She is also director of the Orbit and Eye Movement Institute at The Vision Center, Children's Hospital Los Angeles. Her research priorities include the impact of strabismus on social experiences and development, health, and quality of life.

Dr. Buffenn is a fellow of the American Academy of Ophthalmology (AAO) and an AAO Achievement Award recipient. She has chaired committees within both the AAO and the American Association for Pediatric Ophthalmology and Strabismus (AAPOS). She is currently the Vice President of Finance and Administration and an Executive Committee Member for the California Academy of Eye Physicians and Surgeons (CAEPS).