COURSE DESCRIPTION

---

This program will focus on providing the attendees an update on the latest aspects of ophthalmic best practices across the field, research updates for recently approved therapies for ophthalmic disease and updates regarding pipeline therapies that may soon be available.

---

COURSE OBJECTIVES

---

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Identify and discuss the most recent techniques in the management of ocular conditions.
- Apply current research to improve diagnosis and management of patients with a variety of ocular diseases in the general ophthalmology clinic.
- Evaluate the benefits of preventive medicine in the management of degenerative ocular disease.
- Examine the efforts used to mitigate the severity of, or to regenerate the function lost due to degenerative ocular disease.

TARGET AUDIENCE

---

This course is intended for the comprehensive ophthalmologist, ophthalmic subspecialties, ophthalmology residents, fellows and optometrists.

---

ACCREDITATION STATEMENT

---

The Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

---

CREDIT DESIGNATION

---

The Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California designates this live activity for a maximum of 4.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The following may apply AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™ for license renewal: Registered Nurses may report up to 4.75 credit hour(s) toward the CME requirements for license renewal by their state Board of Registered Nurses (BRN). CME may be noted on the license renewal application in lieu of a BRN provider number.

Physician Assistants: The National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants states that AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ accredited courses are acceptable CME requirements for recertification.
