COURSE DESCRIPTION

Advancing Knowledge in Multidisciplinary Lung Cancer Care is intended to provide a diverse and comprehensive overview of the rapidly evolving field of lung cancer. Faculty members from different specialties will provide the latest recommendations and best practices based on newly emerging data and trials. Keck faculty will provide specific insights into the most current management of ground glass opacities as well as how to maintain best practices within the context of international guidelines for lung cancer care.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Describe the role of a multidisciplinary team in the management of lung cancer patients undergoing different modalities of therapy.
- Review different approaches to diagnose, stage and manage lung cancer patients.
- Discuss the non-systemic therapies for advanced lung cancers.
- Identify patients who should be referred for complex lung cancer treatment.
- Compare different surgical options for lung cancer.
- Explain advances in systemic therapy for lung cancer including immunotherapy, targeted therapies and other forms of therapy.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This course is intended for academic and private practice and other allied healthcare professionals including primary care physicians, specialists, and subspecialists of all disciplines seeking to enhance their understanding and lung cancer treatment options in order to select the optimal management for their patients.

Accreditation Statement

The Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation

The Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California designates this live activity for a maximum of 7.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits[™]. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The following may apply AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™] for license renewal: Registered Nurses may report up to 7.25 credit hour(s) toward the CME requirements for license renewal by their state Board of Registered Nurses (BRN). CME may be noted on the license renewal application in lieu of a BRN provider number.

Physician's Assistants: The National Commission on Certification of Physicians' Assistants states that AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™] accredited courses are acceptable CME requirements for recertification.
